Job Advert

Who we are

Be bold. Be innovative. Be a 'Strathclyder'.

We are the University of Strathclyde. Our vision is bold and ground breaking, placing us amongst the world's leading international technological universities.

We are seeking to appoint extraordinary Professors / Readers who align with our strategic priorities.

For more information visit the Strathclyde Global Talent Programme Website:

www.strath.ac.uk/workwithus/strathclydeglobaltalentprogramme or email globaltalent@strath.ac.uk

Our department

The Department of Physics has an international reputation for pioneering high quality research and technological advancement in areas including photonics, optics, quantum technology, plasma physics, nanoscience, and research at the interface of physics and the life sciences. The Department has excellent research and teaching facilities, and strives to provide a stimulating, inclusive and respectful environment in which staff and students are supported to realise their full potential.

In line with the Department's strategic research directions and plans for expansion, we welcome applications from candidates whose research focuses on any of the following areas:

- Neuromeritons / Optical imaging
- Laser-plasma-based particle and radiation sources / Free electron physics and microwave-plasma interactions
- Quantum optics / Quantum technology

The opportunity

We would love to hear from you if you have an internationally recognised research portfolio in this area, are publishing in leading international journals, are actively pursuing funding whilst building impactful collaborative links with industrial and business partners and if you have a passion for leading on teaching and learning. In keeping with our commitment to equality and diversity, we encourage applications from all sections of the community, particularly those who can support our Athena SWAN activity, which inspires the advancement and representation of women in higher education.

You'll be rewarded with:

- A generous remuneration package, with notable additional financial and non-financial benefits including pension and (where appropriate) a contribution towards relocation costs;
- Excellent start-up support; and
- Regular career review, with the opportunity to receive additional remuneration in recognition of outstanding contribution.
